INSTRUCTIONS:

1. Color the white side of the cardboard with a heavy coat of crayon color. Color in stripes, patches, and irregular shapes.

2. Brush a smooth coat of the black paint over the colored side of the cardboard, working in one direction and brushing completely to all edges. Let dry.

HELPFUL HINT: If you are in a hurry use a hair dryer on low speed to quickly dry paint in between coats.

3. Apply second coat and third coat if needed. You want a built up surface of black paint. You should not be able to see crayon through the paint.

4. Plan your design on a separate sheet of paper.

5. Use the included wooden dowels, or your own scratching tool (such as a pencil, comb, or toothpick) to etch out your design. As you scratch through the black paint the crayon colors will be revealed.

6. If you scratch a line that you do not want to keep, cover it with black paint and let it dry.

7. Create a frame around your picture by using the pointed end of the dowel and the ruler to scratch a border around edges of the cardboard about 1” in from all sides.
